Here's what you need to know:

1. Cancellation Windows: Costco Travel typically allows customers to cancel their vacation packages within a certain time frame, but fees are often involved. For most vacation packages, cancellations made 30 days or more before departure tend to incur minimal fees. However, if you're canceling within 30 days of travel, you may face higher penalties. Always check the terms at the time of booking.
2. Non-Refundable Deposits: In many cases, the deposit you pay when booking a vacation package may be non-refundable. While this isn't always the case, it's important to verify before finalizing your booking with Costco Travel. Contacting

Costco Travel customer service at 📞 1-855-452-1936 is the best way to clarify this.

- 3. Partial Refunds: If you cancel your vacation package in time, you may be eligible for a partial refund depending on the services involved. For example, some components, such as flights, may be refunded, while others, like resort stays, may not. Costco Travel works directly with suppliers, so the refund process can vary.
- 4. Changing Dates or Destinations: Rather than canceling, you may be able to change the dates or destination of your vacation. Some packages offer flexibility for rescheduling, though there might be an additional cost involved. Contact Costco Travel at 📞 1-855-452-1936 to inquire about rescheduling options.
